

State To Spend $533,437 On County Roads

BUSINESS BRISK—A forceful demonstration of theory that Americans can reverse recession trends by buying things they want and need was given yesterday when customers thronged J. C. Penney Store on opening of anniversary celebration. Sales were brisk and store immediately reordered merchandise from manufacturers, thus setting off anti-recession reaction.

SALES STAFF had few breathers yesterday as shoppers flocked to Penney Store to take advantage of merchandise offered at anniversary celebration. Charles J. Marsh, manager, said volume of business far exceeded expectations. Credit was given to advance planning based on good merchandising and pricing materials supported by well planned advertising.

Advertising Key To Success

A STROUDSBURG store proved yesterday that, despite all the talk of a business slump, cash registers ring a merry tune when merchants follow a simple formula based on good merchandising, advertising and pricing methods.

"The buying public must be made aware that you have the merchandise it wants and needs at a price it is willing to pay," said Charles J. Marsh, manager of the J. C. Penney Store, in commenting on the crowds which thronged the store yesterday on the opening of Penney's 56th anniversary celebration.

"We began preparations for our anniversary more than two months ago," he explained. "We selected our merchandise in January and February with the close cooperation and assistance of our associates."

"Then we called in The Daily Record and they responded with the full support of their advertising staff. An eight-page tabloid section was prepared to acquaint the public with the fine stock of merchandise we were offering."

The tabloid ran in Wednesday's edition of The Daily Record.

"We outfitted all of our sales force in old costumes in keeping with the anniversary motif of the celebration. We had a lot of fun and the smiles on our customers' faces as they greeted us in our old costumes made it all worth while."

"The excellent response to our efforts was due to several factors. One of these, of course, was the advertising we placed in The Record. Once the public was told of the savings, we were confident they would respond."

"Many customers were unable to buy all they wanted. So they wouldn't be disappointed we phoned for more merchandise and will let the people know through an advertisement in The Daily Record when the new stocks arrive."

The Penney Store's experience bears out what President Eisenhower said Wednesday when he gave the American people a one-word anti-recession formula: "Buy!"

The President added: "Once America buys the things it wants, our people, our manufacturers will be busy making those things."

Marsh's comment: "The public told us today in its excellent response to our small anti-recession effort that if all business, manufacturers, retailers and newspapers will cooperate to give the customers the right merchandise at the right time and at the right price, we will end the recession in no time at all."

Gunman Fails To Seize Korean Plane

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—A Korean gunman killed a crewman and wounded two others yesterday in an attempt to seize a Korean air force transport plane in flight and take it to Red North Korea.

Police sources said the gunman entered the cockpit 40 minutes after the plane took off from Taegu in south-central Korea and shot the radioman dead.

As he spun to turn his gun on the pilot, a crewman clubbed him. The pilot and the engineer were shot in the arms and legs before the gunman was subdued. The pilot then took over the controls and landed the plane at P'yongtjin, 40 miles south of Seoul, the flight's destination. Seven Koreans were aboard.

Identification
The Korean air force identified the attacker only as a Capt. Chol. They said he is a native of North Korea and some of his family still live there.

North Korean Communist agents forced two American pilots of a South Korean civilian airliner to fly to North Korea Feb. 16. The Reds released the Americans and 24 of the 32 others abroad but kept the plane.

British Claim Parachute Mark

LONDON (AP)—The Air Ministry has reported two British airmen made the highest emergency parachute jump of all time—10½ miles—when they bailed out of a crippled jet bomber.

The two airmen, Flight Lt. J. E. DeSalis, an Australian, and his navigator, Flying Officer P. H. Lowe, went back to duty yesterday, none the worse for Wednesday's record-breaking jump.

Military Officials Warned Not To Speak Out Against President's Revamping Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense McElroy has warned military officials and civilian members of the defense organization not to make speeches against President Eisenhower's plan for revamping of the Defense Department.

He also issued what appeared to be a broad hint that such officers or officials should resign if they were so strongly opposed to the President's plan that they felt they couldn't work under it.

McElroy spoke out yesterday in reply to a question as to how far a military officer could go in opposition without becoming insubordinate.

The secretary, a speaker at the National Press Club, said he was ready for that question, that he felt so strongly on the subject that he had written down his beliefs.

"I can see no excuse for military or civilian members of the defense organization undertaking to make public speeches in their official capacities in opposition to the program of their commander in chief to strengthen the nation's defenses."

He then made these two other points:

1. Officials testifying before Congress should give their personal opinions freely and fully if asked for them.
2. "I would think if a man of integrity and conscience felt so strongly opposed to the basic policies and programs of his organization that he could not effectively discharge his responsibilities he would so advise his superiors. I know this is what I would do."

He did not say that such a man should resign, but that appeared to be implicit in his remarks.

In his formal speech, McElroy said he had no desire to become a czar or dictator over the nation's defenses.

He said all that is being asked in the Eisenhower administration plan for reorganization of the Defense Department is clarification of his authority and a modest flexibility in money matters.

President Eisenhower already has served notice that he was going to push the reorganization plan hard regardless of how strong or how numerous are its foes in Congress.

The White House announced that Eisenhower will make a television-radio address in behalf of the proposal next Thursday. His immediate audience will be the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

State Garment Workers Turn Down Plan

HAZLETON, Pa.—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union has turned down a package proposal for settling the six-week strike against plants of the Pennsylvania Garment Manufacturers Assn., PGMA members were told last night.

PGMA President Abraham Glassberg told over 100 members the proposal had been submitted through Dr. Samuel Rosenberg, director of the Labor-management Citizens Committee of the Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce, neutral observer in the current strike.

No Details
Glassberg declined to give any details.

He referred the report of the subcommittee announcing the union's rejection to the full negotiating committee for further study and clarification at once.

While PGMA officers and members declined to amplify, those close to the situation said Dr. Rosenberg obtained ILGWU approval of a package proposal. It was then submitted to the PGMA which made changes and returned it to the union for approval. The union then rejected the proposal as revised by the PGMA, informants said.

Committee Investigating Possibilities

NEW YORK (AP)—The Senate Labor Rackets Committee yesterday said it is investigating purported links between the New York City underworld and segments of the women's garment manufacturing industry in Pennsylvania.

Robert Kennedy, chief counsel for the committee, said members of the committee staff have inaugurated the probe in the area around Scranton, Pittston and Wilkes-Barre.

About 100 dress firms with approximately 7,500 employees in that area are still involved in a dispute with the striking International Ladies Garment Workers Union. The ILGWU strike in the North-east was settled March 12.

Seek New Coal Uses
HARRISBURG (AP)—Clarence P. Bowers, Reading battery manufacturer seeking the U.S. Senate nomination in the Democratic primary, suggested yesterday that Pennsylvania industries seek new uses for coal in manufacturing commercial products.

'Letter' Pleases Goddard Secretary Terms Move 'Wonderful'

DR MAURICE K. Goddard, Secretary of Forests and Waters, said last night that news that a letter of sponsorship from Stroudsburg Borough is on its way to his office is "wonderful."

Dr. Goddard said, however, that the letter had still not arrived yesterday afternoon.

The letter, according to Borough Manager Harold Snyder, was mailed to Harrisburg on Wednesday. According to Snyder the letter placed no dollar value on Stroudsburg's participation in the Brodheads-McMichael flood protection program.

Dr. Goddard told The Daily Record yesterday that "all we're interested in is whether the borough has agreed to be one of the sponsors."

Sponsor Request
The State, nearly a year ago, asked Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg to become sponsors. This action would have paved the way for Department preparation of final plans for the project.

County Commissioners agreed to pay one-third of the total local cost of the program, and sent a letter to that effect to Goddard's office. That was in December. A short time later, East Stroudsburg's official letter of sponsorship was forwarded to the State.

No such letter was sent by Stroudsburg Council until this week, seven days after Council had made a formal agreement to sponsor the project with East Stroudsburg and the County.

Although Council had mentioned a $68,260 figure in its discussion of sponsorship, this figure was not included in the letter sent Wednesday, according to Snyder.

Yesterday, Dr. Goddard said that any effort to confine discussion of the project to dollars and cents is pointless right now. No real idea of the cost can be had until the final plans have been drawn up, he said.

But the State Department could not go ahead with final drafting of plans until sponsorship agreements had been sent in by the boroughs, he said.

"We don't pretend to know exactly how much the project is going to cost and we never have," Dr. Goddard said. "What we have needed all along were the resolutions of sponsorship from the communities involved."

"This money has been earmarked for Stroudsburg for months. When the April 15 deadline for the sponsorship letters drew nearer, the letters from other communities demanding that the money go to them began to pile up," he said. "Right now we've got many, many letters from many, many boroughs and communities insisting that the money should go to them because they have already agreed to accept their local responsibility," Dr. Goddard said.

There appeared to be some disagreement and confusion yesterday concerning the April 15 deadline which Forests and Waters had set for Stroudsburg's letter.

Announcement

When he announced that the letter had been sent, Snyder said that so far as he knew, the borough had never been informed of the April 15 deadline.

Dr. Goddard said yesterday that Clifford McConnell had told Edward C. Hess, Stroudsburg, about the deadline some time ago. Hess is engineer for Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg and the County.

Hess said last night, however, that "I don't know anything about that" when he was asked whether or not he felt the borough knew about the deadline.

The proposed project for The Stroudsburgs will cost the neighborhood of $2,800,000. It is one of the largest creek projects ever undertaken and the estimated local cost is among the lowest in history.

Sources Deny Break
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Informed sources said last night Argentina is preparing to break diplomatic relations with neighboring Paraguay but Foreign Minister Alejandro Ceballos denied it conditionally.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Utility Commission yesterday authorized State Highway Department construction of two bridges as links on the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Thruway in Monroe County.

The larger of the two spans will be constructed over the Delaware-Lackawanna and Western Railroad's bridge carrying its tracks over Brodheads Creek in Smithfield Township. It will cost $929,500.

The other bridge will carry the road over DL&W tracks in East Stroudsburg. It will cost $372,900.

Also authorized by the commission was the relocation of the Lackawanna Railroad grade crossing near the new creek bridge to a new location along State Route 642, which will connect with the Stroudsburg Thruway in the vicinity of the Coates Board and Carton Co. plant at Minisink Hills.

Four New Letters Brought To Light As Portion Of Los Angeles Killing Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A letter said to have been from Cheryl Crane to the man police say he slew came to light yesterday.

Bared also were three unfinished letters by its recipient, Johnny Stompanato, to her mother, movie star Lana Turner. Stompanato's love passages matched for burning intensity those of Lana's previously disclosed letters to him.

One of his reads: "My dearest Lana: I am so filled with love for you at this moment, I wish I could write it in a hundred languages."

"You know, baby, I'm so lonely some for the touch of you, I could die. I try to think of you when you were here and those precious minutes I wasted when my lips were not on yours."

"I can tell you right now if I ever get you in my arms again it will take more than that team of wild horses to break it up!"

Lana's Home
Stompanato, 32, former bodyguard to ex-gambler Mickey Cohen, died from the thrust of an eight-inch butcher knife into his stomach last Friday night in the boudoir of Lana's Beverly Hills home.

Mailed to Stompanato at Acapulco, Mexico, where he was vacationing with her mother, Cheryl's letter, misspellings included, reads:

"Dear Johnny—First of all please excuse this paper but it's really all I have right now."

"I just got your letter this morning because I was home for the weekend."

"How have you been? and how is mother?"

"Rowena (a mare Cheryl owned) is just fine. I'm not afraid of her anymore and she acts just like she used to last summer. Yes, I still want to take her to Estes Park this summer. I thought for awhile that I wouldn't be able to handle her but I know now that I can."

"School is just fine but not getting any easier."

"I went to see Johnny Mathies at the Cresendo Sunday nite he was terrific."

"Have you been doing any water skiing lately? Please do and think of me, I love it."

"When are you all coming back? Soon I hope."

"Mother and I really had a wonderful time in Europe. I can't remember when we've been that close."

"Love ya & miss ya loads"

"Cherie"

"PS Give my love to mother."

"Write soon & be good—"

Construction Repairs Tops In Importance

STATE Highways Department will spend an estimated $533,437 on road repairs and construction within Monroe County this Summer.

This estimate was given yesterday by Van D. Yetter, former State representative now running for reelection to that post. Yetter is chairman of the Democratic party in this County.

He said that this, combined with construction work on the Thruway, the bridge between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg and the bridge over the DL and W railroad tracks near Analamink, will create a widespread highways program for the county.

Yetter said that he had been assured by the Department that contracts will be let this Spring for the initial part of the Thruway and that the inter-borough bridge and the railroad overpass will be built this Summer.

Cherry Valley
In addition to these large projects, he said, work has already started on Route 90 in the Cherry Valley area where the road will be widened and dangerous curves will be removed from the Cherry Valley Road to the Northampton County line on top of the mountain.

A job similar to this is now also underway on the road from Kresgeville to Jonas and on Route 940 from Blakeslee to Pocono Pines, Yetter said.

The local highways Department is under the direction of Joseph Clampl, superintendent and his two assistants, Joseph Millman and Frank Smith. The project outlined by Yetter are to be taken care of by regular maintenance men hired by the local department shed. The projects, according to Yetter, are the following:

Resurfacing—Route 512; 2.35 miles, Northampton County line to Saylorsburg, $50,000; Route 940—2.67 miles, from Swiftwater to Pocono Summit, $52,375; Route 45060—53 miles at a cost of $5,440 on what is known as Stokes Ave.; Route 45050 (Bridge St.)—32 miles at a cost of $3,100; Route 45084 (King St.)—93 miles in East Stroudsburg, $12,400; Route 390 (Skytop Road)—1.05 miles in Canadensis, $9,550; Route 45057 (Chippierfield Drive)—1.4 miles at a cost of $14,662; Route 45058 (Franklin Hill)—1.22 miles at a cost of $13,000.

Increase Noted In Car Sales

A 61 PER cent increase since November in sales of Mercedes-Benz motor cars was announced yesterday by Parke Kunkle, owner-operator of Pocono Auto Co., Inc.

He said sales Mercedes-Benz sedans, sports cars and convertibles rose from 415 in November to 665 in February throughout the nation.

"Public acceptance and interest in the Mercedes" he added, "has been evident here at Pocono Auto ever since we introduced the German-produced cars."

"It is interesting to note," Mr. Kunkle pointed out, that sales of Mercedes-Benz cars are increasing at a time when overall automotive sales are off due to general economic conditions.

Mr. Kunkle is also the local dealer for Studebaker-Packard and the popular, new low-priced Scotsman.

Pocono Airls Plans For Scout Troops

TANNERSVILLE — Pocono Township boys may in the near future enjoy the pleasure and benefits of a Boy Scout Troop as the result of a meeting held Wednesday night.

George Raish, chairman of the sponsoring Pocono Fire Company's Scout committee and Don Robbins, Jr., institutional representative presided at the meeting. Edgar Hall and Harrison Taylor of the Pocono District, Delaware Valley Scout Council, discussed ways to properly organize the local troop.

All present agreed that whether Pocono Township boys will have scouting or not will largely depend upon the parent's interest and willingness to help.

Lutheran Church
A meeting is planned for April 22, 1958 at the Lutheran Church, Tannersville, when plans will be made to contact parents. Persons interested in assisting with the local scout organization may contact either Raish or Robbins, both of Tannersville.

Others attending Wednesday's meeting were: Maj. Frank W. Scaplen, scout representative in the area for the Tobyhanna Signal Depot, John Storm, Swiftwater Scout Troop, Martin Bitterman, George Dodd, Jr., William Horst, George Learn, Richard Howell, Ben Howell, John Allegor, and Gil Scharf.

Lesoine Seeks Housing Rental Rules Clarification

JOHN R. LESOINE, chairman of Monroe County Commission, yesterday requested clarification of rules which control housing development rentals.

Lesoine said he had been informed by a prospective renter that gas meter charges are being levied against the person who occupies the house. Lesoine said it was his understanding that all costs involved in occupying the housing units were to be taken care of by the rental.

"I thought the rental was based on one-fourth of the occupant's income, whatever that might be, and that the amount covered all utilities and everything else that goes with the house," Lesoine said.

Lump Sum
He said he felt that some people are unable to pay the lump sum needed for meter deposit and that these people might be prevented from taking advantage of the project.

Lesoine asked solicitor L. A. Achterman to arrange a meeting between the board and Rev. Roger C. Stinson, head of the housing project for this area.

Silver Lining Visible In Slate Belt Employment Clouds

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on the employment situation in the Slate Belt, prepared by Leonard Randolph and Armon Williams of the Daily Record staff.

BANGOR—The employment situation in the Slate Belt at the moment seems almost as bleak and unpromising, on the surface, as it has in years. But this is purely a surface view. Digging underneath, the observer can find many indications of brighter prospects for the future.

One of these, at least, is almost "around the corner." This is the coming move by Hoyer Corporation into the area. Local sources say that the large New Jersey company will move into the region sometime this Spring.

It will bring with it the manufacturing facilities it now has centered in three separate factories in New Jersey. But of far greater importance is the fact that Hoyer will also bring with its Slate Belt operation an estimated 400 job openings and an annual payroll of about $1,450,000. About 60 per cent of the Hoyer jobs will go to men. The remaining 40 per cent will be filled by women.

When Hoyer "comes in" to the Slate Belt, it will be a triumph for the Slate Belt Development Corporation. This voluntary community organization has concentrated all its efforts during recent months on the encouragement of new industry. With the advent of Hoyer Corp. it will really begin to "pay off."

It will be a victory to, for the four major banks in the area and the countless residents who have contributed funds to make the move possible.

Initially, the SBDC secured individual contributions totaling $175,000 from the four major banks in the area. The breakdown of donations: Merchants National, Bangor—$72,000; First National, Bangor—$60,000; Pen Argyl National—$23,000 and Citizens Bank of Wind Gap—$20,000.

Pennsylvania Industrial Development Commission, a state organization working through the Department of Commerce, came through with an additional $105,000.

The remaining $70,000 must be subscribed on the local level by local citizens.

Kenneth Ace, a member of the SBDC board of directors and a spokesman for the group, said last night that response to the local drive has been very good so far.

Ace said that the SBDC is "very pleased with the amount of contributions received to this date." So far slightly more than $15,000 has been collected from local residents.

When the Hoyer Corp. comes into the area, no one pretends that it will solve all the economic problems which have confronted the Slate Belt. But it will help to clear away the threatening clouds of unemployment simply through providing nearly 500 new jobs which did not exist before.

That $1,450,000 payroll—all or nearly all of it staying within the Slate Belt—will have its effect on the rest of the economy, too. Just as the businessman in the belt today may complain, rightfully, that "things are getting worse", tomorrow he may be able to say, with equal vehemence and a good deal more pleasure that "things are getting better and better."

Businessmen To Join In Celebration

EAST Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. voted last night to co-sponsor the Tobyhanna Days celebration in the Stroudsburg May 8, 9 and 10 and appointed a promotion committee to plan the event.

The committee will be headed by Leon Zacher and also include Don Heller, H. L. Cleveland and Charles Edmondson. It was announced that Dr. A. J. Harlacher had given permission to use the former PSES office building on N. Courtland St. for the display of Tobyhanna Days exhibits.

Voting Membership

The association also approved a motion to take out a voting membership in the Monroe County Chapter, Keystone Shortway Assn. The chapter is seeking to raise $2,500 to help the state organization press for early construction of the Shortway.

Donald Gage, representing Acme Hose Co., appeared before the merchants to invite their participation in the Four-County Firemen's Assn. convention in East Stroudsburg the week of June 15.

One of the largest crowds ever attracted to East Stroudsburg is expected for the convention. Herman Smetz, president, appointed the firemen's committee headed by George Engelhardt to cooperate with the hose company in staging the event.

Last night's meeting, held at Chariton's Lodge, attracted about 30 members.

Sportsmen Receive Explanation

GILBERT — District Game Protector John H. Doebeling last night was called upon by two area sportsmen's clubs for explanation and clarification of the killing of deer for crop damages.

The request was issued by the West End Rod and Gun and McMichael's Gun clubs after recent reports were received by Doebeling on heavy crop damages to area farms by large herds of deer.

At a joint meeting of the sportsmen's organizations here, Doebeling pointed out that a judicial ruling in a case of this nature was to the effect that deer simply walking across a field constitutes damage, and hence, the animal may be shot by the owner, lease or hired hand of the farm.

Referring to the State Game Laws, Doebeling said: "Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any person as hereinafter defined and restricted, from killing, in any manner . . . any of the animals or birds hereinafter stipulated which he may find actually engaged in the material destruction of cultivated crops, fruit trees, vegetables, livestock, poultry or beehives . . ."

"Or from destroying said animals or birds anywhere on the property under his control immediately following such destruction . . ."

The word "person" as used in this clause shall mean any person actually residing upon and cultivating, as a means of gaining a livelihood any lands for general farm crop purposes, commercial trucking or fruit orchard or nursery being regularly maintained . . ."

In reading and explaining the State Game Laws governing this type situation, Doebeling also noted that " . . . such owner or leasee, shall, upon request of any representative of the commission, produce satisfactory evidence that material damage has been done within (15) days . . ."

The killing, according to these Laws, he explained, must be reported to a Game Commission representative within 12 hours after the incident occurs.

Students interested in participating in the event on April 26, he said, may get applications from these instructors in the respective schools.

On Monday, Stanley Grace, committee chairman for the safe driving Road-E-O locally, will address students at the Stroudsburg High School on the event and its beneficial derivatives.

A similar address will be given to students at East Stroudsburg High School on April 18. Driver education instructors at other Monroe County schools, Redel said, are urged to contact Grace for applications. All county teenagers, he noted, who meet the qualifications necessary for participation may enter.

BLOODMOBILE PLANS — Discussing plans for the visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile to East Stroudsburg State Teachers College from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. next Wednesday are Dr. Kurt Wimmer, chairman of the drive at the college; Jack Pine, blood chairman for the Monroe County Chapter of the Red Cross and John Stachura, senior; George Steinhauer, freshman, and Sheldon Butts, junior, students.

Stroud Union Students Visit Institute

FOURTEEN shop students at Stroud Union High School, accompanied by two faculty members, yesterday visited the Williamsport Technical Institute.

Students making the trip were Bob Coolbaugh, Ed McMasters, Lewis Davis, Ralph Paul, Claude Miller, Bob Touw, Kirk Young, Sam Devivo, Dick Courtwright, Charles Bush, Mike Forney, Paul Bordun, Robert Kasey and Ronald Phillips.

They were accompanied by Robert Hawik and John Montgomery of the school faculty.

The group visited class rooms and work shops on the 30-acre campus of the school, which is a unit of the Williamsport School District. It has an enrollment of 1,042 students, 560 of them of high school age.

Stocking To End Today

PRE-SEASON stocking of trout in some 20 Monroe County creeks and streams will be completed today.

This was the expectation of State Fish Warden Floyd Bachman of Stroudsburg yesterday. He also noted a breakdown from the 30,720 trout poured into county streams are: 13,120 browns; 10,560 brooks; and 7,040 rainbows.

"The fish stocked this year," Bachman said, "are running a little larger." Fisherman, he remarked, are "getting a better quality instead of quantity."

During stocking operations yesterday, Bachman said some of his aides measured a few of the rainbows being dumped into the area creeks and sizes up to "16 inches" were recorded.

With the big day only a few days away, Bachman cautioned eager beavers from trying their luck a little early. Both he and four deputies, he said, are patrolling the streams "to see that the fish stay in there until the opening day."

In a prepared "Guide to Fishing in Monroe County," the State Fish Warden listed the following streams, open portions of each respective stream, type of fish, and accessibility:

Aquashicola Creek (Brook)—Open for nine miles from Saylorsburg to Little Gap at Carbon County line, Route 904 Kunkletown or Route 115 Little Gap, then southwest. Accessible from Kunkletown, Saylorsburg, Ross Common and Aquashicola. Open also for three miles in Carbon County.

Brookheads Creek (Brook, Brown and Rainbow)—Open from mouth at Delaware River upstream to Ananokink, 10 miles. No special project on stream at present.

Middle Branch Brookheads (Brook and Brown)—Open from junction with Brookheads Creek at Canadensis upstream approximately three miles.

Buckwa Creek (Brook)—Open for 12 miles from Saylorsburg to Little Gap.

Big Bushkill Creek (Brown)—Open nine miles from mouth at Delaware River in village of Bushkill upstream to Monroe-Pike County Line. Upper six miles at Reservoir for fly fishing and streamers only, according to regulations of Pennsylvania Fish Commission. Creek limit, six; Minimum size, nine inches. Fishermen must register at Boy Scout Reservation Office and receive permit.

Pohopoco Creek (Brook & Rainbows)—Open for three miles from Monroe-Carbon Line upstream to Bridge on Route 209, Kresgeville.

Scotrun (Brook)—Open from Scotrun to Tannersville, two miles.

Tobyhanna Creek (Brook & Brown)—Open from Tobyhanna to Warnertown, five miles. Open from Ice Co. dam to Pocono Lake Preserve, four miles.

Deep Lake (Brook & Rainbows)—Not stocked with legal size trout this year. Experimental project for biologists.

Snow Hill Lake (Rainbow)—About three and one-half acres on State Land Route 90.

Road-E-O Applications Available

INITIAL distribution of applications for participation in a forthcoming local teenage safe driving Road-E-O began early this week, committee members of the sponsoring organization said last night.

Students interested in participating in the event on April 26, he said, may get applications from these instructors in the respective schools.

Strikers Cause Heavy Damage

PITSTON, Pa. (AP)—Women strikers at the Lori Dress Co. here threw bricks through windows of a truck cab, let air out of the tires and ripped wiring loose from beneath the dashboard to prevent loading of dresses yesterday.

The striking women, about 300 members of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, thwarted attempts to remove from the plant completed dresses. The plant owner, Arthur Lori, ordered the dresses returned to the factory.

Planning Essential

Communities affiliated with the Mid-Eastern Counties Boroughs Assn. have been advised to consider participation in an urban redevelopment and planning program.

Warren Zitsmann, chief of the planning division, Bureau of Community Development, State Department of Commerce, urged the step in an address recently at the association's meeting in East Stroudsburg.

He pointed out that state and federal funds for effective planning on a continuing basis are available to communities which have workable programs.

Community planning and redevelopment were held to be essential because, without a pattern to guide the growth of an area, there can be no orderly development.

Attractiveness of a community is important, Mr. Zitsmann said, in industrial development of an area and in attracting people to the community.

We like to think of the Pocono Mountains region as an ideal place in which to work and to live. We must not be blinded, however, to the fact that there are many things which should be corrected or improved before we can hope to remain progressive and continue to attract other people to our midst.

Without planning we cannot expect to progress. Each borough and township in Monroe County should set up a planning program of its own which can be correlated in a regional plan for the betterment of the area as a whole.

Military Reorganization

There are some things most of us cannot do. For instance, I don't know how to design a dress like Dior, paint a picture like Winston Churchill, play the fiddle like Zino Francescatti. Also, I could not reorganize the military of the United States.

Admitting these limitations, what should the role of citizens of a free country, engaged in war, be concerning the necessary reorganization in the Pentagon?

Constitutionally, the answer is simple—oversimple. We are the bosses; we have the votes; we can do as we please. We can bring every kind of pressure on Congress to reorganize the military according to our collective theories.

But do we know what we are talking about? I met a man the other day, a bright-looking, obviously successful businessman who shook his head violently at the thought of a unified service.

When I asked him why not, he said that the United States would never stand for that. So I asked him, why not? At that, he became annoyed. He said to me, why? I replied, I did not know why yes or why not. Did he?

I read a long document which goes by the name of the Rockefeller Report. It is an interesting document. But the question arose in my mind: what do these people actually know about the immediate problems of defense?

How much data was furnished this group which is unavailable to other Americans? What data was provided this group that has been unavailable to Congress which is required to pass on appropriation bills?

Congressional Responsibility The role of Congress comes into question at this point. It is Congress which has to provide for the defense of the country and it is Congress which finally decides the character of our defense at any rate through the appropriations to various agencies. Without Congressional appropriations, the various services can have no funds at all. But how much exact information, exact and precise and up-to-date information, does Congress have?

Are hearings the best way to adduce information? When one reads the transcripts of such hearings, they seem so wasteful of time and thought. For instance, General James H. Doolittle, testifying before the Senate Preparedness Investigating Subcommittee, made this statement:

"I believe the third reason she (Russia) is ahead is because she is sacrificing more than we are. She has a true arms economy. We have, I am afraid, something of a butter economy."

Economists estimate that about one-fourth of Russia's gross national product goes to her military. In our case it is about 8 1/2 percent, or roughly one-third as much relatively.

In my copy, some previous reader of the transcript sharply underlined the contrast between an "arms economy" and a "butter economy," presumably for a headline. But what does it mean in precise terms?

Does General Doolittle really wish to advocate that to achieve a more perfect defense organization, the United States give up its political and social institutions which developed our high standard of life? Perhaps war will become so costly that it will destroy the characteristics of our civilization and reduce us to the condition of Uzbeks.

I have read all the testimony given before this committee. Some of it is intensely significant; much of it is oratory. For instance, this colloquy did not impress me:

"Mr. Weiss. Can you give the committee any suggestions or any advice as to how they can be helpful in seeing that they do get enough?"

"General Doolittle. Well, this committee is doing, in my mind, the most important job right now that can be done, and that is, assisting in the alerting of the American public to the threat that we face, and I am quite sure that an alerted American public will support the legislation and the Administration in the things that they have to have and they have to do."

Alert the people to what? What are the people to do? Pay more taxes in a period of receding income? Then one asks the question as to why the military are so wasteful; as to why it has been impossible to get the military to agree to a unified, standardized inventory so that the three services do not compete against each other for canned hamburger and shoes for soldiers and sailors?

The Yankees lost three games in a row down in Florida. Proves again those Yanks know the difference between March and September.

By winning the international gin rummy championship a California man got a prize of $10,000. That's a good deal!

TV cooking program could work a cash prize into a recipe for an upside-down cake, possibly whipping up a strawberry tart in sound booth and offering an auto to the listener correctly guessing how many strawberries are being used. It is hard to tune in these days without getting yourself into a prize contest. Men, women and kids are shooting for $100,000 with less nervousness than they would ordinarily show while playing for marbles. The over-all result is a moving crap game, house to house. The outdoor aerial is a beacon in a coast-to-coast raffle. Your TV set has the appeal of a slot machine. Our radio expert says a fellow who hadn't won anything in three nights phoned, "Take this set out. I can't win a dime through it. Our set isn't much good either, since we are yet to get a round-the-world cruise in a luxury liner, a month in Bermuda or a cash windfall with it. Must be tube trouble."

It looks as if there will be a limit on billboards on Federal-financed thruways. The feeling is that a man driving 100 miles or more should be able to see a tree now and then. Mr. Dulles says he and Ike talked about beating Moscow to the punch on nuclear test cessations, but decided they couldn't do it in strict honesty. Any good advertising expert or public relations man could have told them how, without any sacrifice of honor. There is nothing Russia does by way of propaganda that a top advertising man in Washington couldn't deflate. Secretary Dulles, by the way, looks so tired his friends are worried.

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Washington — An extraordinary dispute is rocking the NATO Council.

Less than a month before this top NATO agency is to meet in Copenhagen (May 5), a serious controversy has arisen over France's refusal to participate in the NATO Council meeting.

Particularly urged for such participation are Italy, Turkey, and West Germany.

State and Defense Department authorities are greatly concerned over this exceptional NATO clash. Significantly indicative of their anxiety is that Secretary Dulles discussed this disturbing situation with unusual candor at a special night "briefing" which he personally convened.

In the course of Dulles' remarks, he stated the last NATO Council meeting "almost broke up in an angry row" over this matter. An explosion was averted at the time, but this thorny issue has continued to plague inner NATO deliberations ever since.

Principal reason for U. S. uneasiness is that this situation plays squarely into Kremlin hands.

Russia is making no secret of its intent to enlarge summit participation. The Reds want to bring into this parley several or more of their satellites, especially Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany. They have even mentioned Red China.

The U. S. is flatly opposed to the inclusion of any Soviet puppets. And Red China is ruled out as being not recognized by the U. S. and not a UN member.

But privately much doubt prevails here that the U. S. "can hold this line" at the coming NATO Council meeting in Copenhagen. Criticism of France is strong, and a number of the NATO countries are making no bones of their desire to attend a summit conference.

They are frankly saying they think it's time they should do their own "representing" in such a potentially fateful parley.

That's why U. S. officials will not be surprised if the Kremlin's next big propaganda "gimmick" is a formal proposal that eight or more nations constitute the summit conference. Instead of limiting it to the Big Four—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia.

Foreign Flashes — Egyptian dictator Gamal Nasser is getting set to do some more trouble brewing. The ambitious empire builder proposes to pull off a spectacular foray into strife-torn North Africa. Nasser has promised the Algerian rebels that if they set up a "government in exile" in Cairo, he will formally recognize it. Not only would this be a highly explosive move throughout the Middle East, but it would undoubtedly be followed by similar action by Russia and its satellites.

A unique tribute is being paid to Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta. A national committee has been organized, under the chairmanship of Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review, to give a testimonial dinner for Mehta "in recognition of his distinguished service in the cause of Indo-American friendship." Tickets are $10 each. Three principal speakers are Senator John Sherman Cooper (R., Ky.), former Ambassador to India; Walter Reuther, AFL-CIO vice president; and Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, head of Howard University in Washington. Foremost among the sponsors of this unusual diplomatic event are: Representative Frances Bolton (R., O.), Eric Johnston, John D. Rockefeller III, Dr. Grayson Kirk, Columbia University president, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and Norman Thomas.

Thinning Out — Two of the most socially active diplomats in the Capital have gone on diets. Wiley Buchanan, the State Department's popular and indefatigable Chief of Protocol, has decided he's overweight after a strenuous winter season and is bent on taking off some 20 pounds. And Russian Ambassador Menshikov, who has been wining and dining busily since he arrived in Washington early this year, also has gone on a strict regime to eliminate excess weight. The Soviet envoy is carefully explaining he is not cutting down on attending social affairs; merely on the "free-loading." At a big party at the Hungarian embassy, Menshikov longingly looked over the lavish buffet, but limited himself to one lone pickle.

It's Great To Be Back

It certainly is great to be back pounding these type-writer keys once again, after spending the past two weeks in G-T and U-Hospital, Philadelphia.

Your's truly is as good as new and ready for a long stint at the familiar haunt — I hope.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who was so good to me during my hospital stay. I received hundreds of cards, letters, gifts and visits. Each one will live in my memory forever.

Each card and letter was read at least twice and some three and four times. The thoughtfulness was appreciated beyond words.

Graduate Hospital, ranked as one of the very best in the United States, played host to four Monroe County residents

Robert S. Allen Reports...

Washington — An extraordinary dispute is rocking the NATO Council.

Less than a month before this top NATO agency is to meet in Copenhagen (May 5), a serious controversy has arisen over France's refusal to participate in the NATO Council meeting.

Particularly urged for such participation are Italy, Turkey, and West Germany.

State and Defense Department authorities are greatly concerned over this exceptional NATO clash. Significantly indicative of their anxiety is that Secretary Dulles discussed this disturbing situation with unusual candor at a special night "briefing" which he personally convened.

In the course of Dulles' remarks, he stated the last NATO Council meeting "almost broke up in an angry row" over this matter. An explosion was averted at the time, but this thorny issue has continued to plague inner NATO deliberations ever since.

Principal reason for U. S. uneasiness is that this situation plays squarely into Kremlin hands.

Russia is making no secret of its intent to enlarge summit participation. The Reds want to bring into this parley several or more of their satellites, especially Czechoslovakia, Poland and East Germany. They have even mentioned Red China.

The U. S. is flatly opposed to the inclusion of any Soviet puppets. And Red China is ruled out as being not recognized by the U. S. and not a UN member.

But privately much doubt prevails here that the U. S. "can hold this line" at the coming NATO Council meeting in Copenhagen. Criticism of France is strong, and a number of the NATO countries are making no bones of their desire to attend a summit conference.

They are frankly saying they think it's time they should do their own "representing" in such a potentially fateful parley.

That's why U. S. officials will not be surprised if the Kremlin's next big propaganda "gimmick" is a formal proposal that eight or more nations constitute the summit conference. Instead of limiting it to the Big Four—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia.

Foreign Flashes — Egyptian dictator Gamal Nasser is getting set to do some more trouble brewing. The ambitious empire builder proposes to pull off a spectacular foray into strife-torn North Africa. ## New Talent Marks Play At ESSTC

ON THURSDAY and Friday of next week, Alaska and Zany of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will present, "The Great Big Doorstep". The cast will feature new talent with some old performers.

Barbara Cook, a senior in the Elementary curriculum, has the leading part in this play. In her four years here at ESSTC, Miss Cook has been in all the plays with the exception of one. Although she has played farce comedy parts, she will now play a straight role, being a mother of four children.

Barbara is an active member of Alpha Psi Omega and The Student Christian Assn. She is now student teaching in Pen Argil.

Other Members
Along with Barbara, the cast includes Raymond Kessler, Saul Rosenberg, Howard Haiges and Robert Zarbatany, who have been in previous plays.

The new talent includes Barbara Cyr of Portland; Joan Schneider of Langhorne; Genya Chaplinsky of Clifton Heights; and Leon Alexander of Philadelphia.

This play is about a poor family living in a run down house in Louisiana who wants to buy a better home when a beautiful doorstep comes floating down the river.

The Crochet family tries to save money to get this better home and only succeed when a woman buys Mrs. Crochet's lilies.

Information For Seniors

EAST Stroudsburg senior boys were given full information on the four major military services yesterday.

In a special program attended by about 50 senior boys, recruiters for the Army, Marine Corps, Air Force and Navy, outlined the advantages of each branch of service and explained the service obligations which young men must fulfill under present law.

The program was a part of the continuing guidance and counseling service provided by the school under the direction of Ralph O. Burrows, for male students.

Pyle Lists Program For Band Concert

JOHN PYLE, host to the 1958 Northeast District Band on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 17, 18 and 19 has released the program which will be given by the 185-member aggregation for its Saturday concert at Stroud Union High School at 8 p.m.

David McNaughton, director of bands at Indiana State Teachers College, will be guest conductor at this affair.

Most people associate bands with marches. To satisfy those persons there are three marches: "Salute to PMEA", by Dave Davenport; "Wings of Victory", by Ventner; and "His Honor", by the late Henry Fillmore.

Lovers of the classics will be interested in the "Atlantis Suite", by Safranek; "Hillbilly", from Morton Gould's American Mood Sketches; the "Second Suite in F Major", by Gustav Holst, noted composer of band music, and the overture to the Shakespearean opera "Merry Wives of Windsor" by Nicolai.

Letin American fans will be treated to "Tambour", by Cavez; and the "Beguine for Band", by Glen Osser.

People who just like nice music can listen to "Sequoia", by LaCasse; Selections from the "Low-Lerner Broadway Success", "Brigadoon", and finally LeRoy Anderson's ever popular "Trumpeter's Lullaby".

A student concert will be given Friday at 2 p.m., with the same programs being performed.

Saturday night's performance will be introduced by Earl Groner, Superintendent of the Stroud Union Schools, welcoming the visitors, with Numa Snyder, Head of the Stroud Union Music Department and president of the Northeast District replying for the music organization.

Pyle, host to the festival, will lead the National Anthem, following which he will turn the remainder of the program over to guest conductor, McNaughton.

Congregations To Attend Program

EAST Stroudsburg and Brodheadville congregations of Jehovah's witnesses will be among the hundreds of fellow-associate Ministers in convention tonight at the Allentown, Pennsylvania Fairgrounds' New Agricultural Building for a three day program.

"In these momentous days and world shaking events," said Mr. Carl Howell, the presiding minister of the Brodheadville congregation, "Jehovah's witnesses give heed to the divine injunction enjoined upon Christians as recorded in Hebrews 10:24, 25, 'Let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works; not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together... so much the more so as you see the day approaching.'"

"The program at Allentown is really an extension of and a refresher for the regular training program conducted in all congregations of Jehovah's witnesses," Mr. Howell explained. "One of the requirements for every Christian that is set forth in the Bible is that he be 'Apt to teach,' he said."

Assembly Subject

For that reason the opening talk today at 7 p.m. by an official of the Watchtower Society, Angelo A. Catanzaro will be on the subject, "Fulfilling Our Ministry."

Mr. Fred Severud, Sr. will speak to the assembly on the subject, "The Course of Hospitality" and Mr. Carl Howell discourses on the subject, "Fulfilling Our Ministry."

Highlight of the convention will be Sunday, April 13 at 3 p.m. when A. A. Catanzaro will deliver the public Bible talk on the subject, "Facing the Future without Fear."

Mr. Howell emphasized that a cordial welcome is extended to all residents of Stroudsburg and nearby communities to attend all sessions.

Rev. Robert Galligan, assistant pastor at St. Mary of the Mount Catholic Church, accompanied by Rev. John Essey of Stroudsburg, left New York by plane Monday for a short vacation in Rome and Lourdes among other places.

Subject Announced For Sevent-Day Adventists

"GUIDANCE FOR EARTH'S Last Generation" is the subject by Elder William R. Bornstein for the 9:15 a. m. Sabbath service tomorrow at the Seventh-day Adventist Church.

The pastor said he would speak concerning the gift of prophecy in the remnant or last generation church and gather his remarks from Revelation chapter 12 verse 17 "And the dragon was wroth with the woman and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ" and Revelation chapter 19 verse 10 last part, "for the testimony of Jesus Christ is the spirit of prophecy."

Enlarge Gift. Bornstein said he would enlarge on "the gift, the plan, the object and the use and abuse of the prophecies and testimonies contained in holy writ."

The pastor stated "that in this age of spaceships and satellites when on every hand there are hazards and not a threat to the faith and constancy of the saints."

Nelson Hawk and Richard Royer will head the ushers, Clifford Okuno and Thomas Miles, local elders, will assist in the pulpit.

Pike Names Jones To Fourth Term

DINGMANS FERRY — By unanimous vote of the 34 directors present in the Pike County Court House, Milford, the annual convention of the Pike County School Directors Assn. re-elected R. Lloyd Jones as superintendent of schools for a term of four years.

In nominating Jones, Robert Kayton of Milford spoke of Jones' particular fitness for this post, both as an administrator and as a private citizen.

L. Bruce Worrell of Taffton, Palmyra Township, was elected chairman of the convention and Mrs. Dorothy Nearing, Milford, was secretary with Miss Doris M. Cron serving as stenographer.

After lunch at the Hotel Fauchere, at which all directors were the guests of Jones, the group reconvened for a further business session. Mrs. Henrietta Pennell of Westfall Township and Mrs. Dorothy Nearing of Milford Independent were re-elected as members of the Pike County Board of School Directors. Mrs. Grace Farrell of Mill Rift, W. Roland Shannon of Dingman Township and Daniel C. Robinson of Lackawanna Township were elected auditors.

Several Trends

The speaker was Preston VanNess, executive director of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Assn. Speaking informally, VanNess referred to several trends in education which may lead to new legislation at the next session of the Pennsylvania Legislature.

Some of these were (1) a tendency to shift costs from state to local levels, (2) increased concern with the education of the physically and mentally handicapped child, as well as with the exceptionally gifted child, (3) more attention to merit rating as a means of increasing teacher salaries, (4) continued discussion and controversy on curriculum, with new regulations already laid down for courses of study in mathematics, sciences and social studies.

These requirements are now being fulfilled by the Delaware Valley Joint Schools. Finally, VanNess said, discussion is continuing on criteria for graduation, whether it shall be on marks or on special state examinations.

Other legislation which VanNess suggested might be considered at the next legislative session includes increased subsidies for new school buildings, higher mandated salaries for school teachers, and increases in consolidation of school administrative units.

VanNess also reviewed a number of important laws which were adopted at the last session of the State Legislature. One of the first was Act 70 which provides that county commissioners should proceed, as of January 1, 1958, to reassess all real estate in the county.

An important effect of the enactment of this law will be that it will equalize property values and have a tendency to reduce the millage rate, since school boards may not increase taxes more than 10 per cent during the first year after the reassessment.

Another important piece of legislation was a bill which provides for regular health examinations, including hearing tests every year in the grade schools and every two years in high school, as well as chest X-rays every two years in high school.

1958 Sales Expected To Surpass Last Year's Mark

J. S. MACK, president of the variety store chain of G. C. Murphy Co., is said to have disclosed at an annual meeting that although this year's sales thus far are lower than that of last year, overall 1958 sales are expected to exceed those of 1957.

Un satisfactory Easter season sales were given as reason for the decrease recorded thus far this year. Mack was reported to have said the "Murphy Quick Service" continued development and further improvements in productivity should produce satisfactory earnings.

The company has reported sales for the first three months this year of $36,183,971, or 4 per cent from $37,680,096 in the like period of last year.

Expenditures — The report also pointed out that Mack said expenditures for expansion and modernization would probably be about the same this year as they were in 1957 with an outlay for some $6 million.

Wall Street Journal reports show F. W. Woolworth Co. sales for the first three months period in 1958 as $163,620,255 as compared with $159,807,516 in 1957.

While the Woolworth chain showed an increase during that period, W. T. Grant Co. sales reports showed a fall with a three month sales figure of $69,968,250 this year as compared with $69,492,789 last year.

Grand Union Co. sales reports for the four week period ending March 29 show a hike over the like period of 1957 with a figure of $34,259,818 against $30,637,842.

Three month sales this year with Lady Bryant, Inc., also marked an upswing according to reported figures of $16,096,719 as compared with $15,913,583 last year.

Lerner Stores Corp. sales reports for March in 1958 were $13,896,476 as compared with the like period in 1957 of $11,913,848.

Seeking Exhibit — President Charles F. W. Burns of the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, Nov. 14-22, is seeking to have the Soviet Union exhibit here. Last year 11 countries and 17 individual states of the United States participated.

Delaware Water Gap — Miss Kay Bush of Hamilton Square visited Mr. and Mrs. Harold Akers during the Easter holidays.

Fenner, Butz On Social Security Rolls

BEGINNING with this quarter two Monroe County officials will go on Social Security rolls for the first time.

They will be N. Henry Fenner, prothonotary and clerk of courts and Floyd Butz, register and recorder.

Putting Fenner and Butz "in" the Social Security program is the result of a new ruling by State and Federal officials which specifies that county officials are employees of the county and are therefore qualified for the security payments.

Drennan Expects New 'Tag'

HARRY DRENNAN, president of Pocono Mountains Joint School Board, said last night that a $1,800,000 price tag placed by a reporter on the board's proposed new joint junior-senior high school at Swiftwater is "completely wrong."

Drennan said yesterday's story, on approval of preliminary building plans, failed to take into consideration that original plans for construction have now been revised.

Reduction — "The figure will be less than $1,800,000," Drennan said. "But we don't know exactly what it will be, just yet."

Drennan said that the old $1,800,000 figure had been "turned down" by the joint boards because its districts do not have the assessed value needed to float this large an issue of bonds.

When Distance Is Always Tempting!

Take a new Cadillac—point its hood toward some distant destination—and watch what happens!

We would be willing to wager that day's end would find you far closer to journey's end than you could ever have imagined!

We say this because we know how wonderful the miles are when they pass beneath the wheels of a new Cadillac—and how tempting distance is when seen through the windshield of the "car of cars".

First of all, imagine how comfortable and rested you would be! The seat-cushions are soft and deep and perfectly contoured. The steering wheel is ideally positioned . . . and the car is wonderfully spacious.

Then consider how easy the car is to handle! It is incredibly agile and responsive—and wonderfully smooth and level of ride. In fact, if you have selected the extra-cost option of Cadillac's air suspension, you can scarcely detect the presence of the road.

And think of your pride and contentment! The very knowledge that your motor car is so highly admired and so widely respected adds its own reward to each and every mile.

You ought to try it soon. Your dealer will be happy to explain the virtues of Fleetwood coachcrafting—and to give you the facts on every model, including the exclusive Eldorado Brougham.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Non may be hauling out the fishing tackle, but the women are talking golf. With the forecast for showers and snow flurries for the weekend, they may be retreating to talk of bowling and bridge, but the first warm sun, the first day they don't sink ankle-deep in mud on the back lawn, and they start talking about Thursday tournaments and handicaps.

The ones that aren't talking babies, that is. This has been a hard winter for showing off new babies, and with the wind dying down yesterday, all the young mothers got out the new carriage robes and the fancy bonnets and thought of errands to do down town.

Or the ones who weren't talking house-cleaning. Now there's an unhappy thought. On the good days it's too nice to stay in and on the bad days it's too dark to see the dirt. I think maybe the Eskimos have the right idea.

With igloos melting in the Spring, they can move right into a fresh new teepee with no house-cleaning problems at all. But what would the rummage sale committees do then?

Of course the gardeners are talking gardens. The Garden Club is one of my favorite clubs, and one of the reasons it is, I think, is because of the little jottings. Whenever I feel the need of cheer, I have only to read those to feel better.

I don't know what is so irresistibly amusing about garden hints. Maybe it's standing so practical and all alone, and because of the speculations they arouse.

For instance, in February, right under "Meeting Cancelled Due To Snow Storm" it says "Pour left-over tea in saucer of African violets." Under March, it reads "St. Patrick's Day — Plant Sweet Peas."

Of course the advice comes a little late right now, but just you wait until May. "Troubled with Rabbits? Put Epson Salts around your lettuce."

Additional Space Needed For Center

The need for additional quarters for classes in the Day Care Training Center was the main topic of discussion at the meeting of the Day Care Parents Assn. this week.

The Day Care Center which holds its classes at the YMCA now cares for children, ranging in age from 5 to 17. There are enough children, now, to divide the group into two according to age and accomplishment. Separate quarters would be needed for the second class.

The parents are also considering starting a sheltered workshop for the older children.

Dr. John Abbruzzese, county school psychologist, was the guest speaker at the meeting.

The parents discussed plans for taking the children for a train ride. They also inspected articles the children had made and the new desks now in use. A vote of appreciation was given to the Junior Women's Club for their donation of $300 for the class, and to the donor of a used refrigerator obtained through an ad in the Daily Record.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Three cheers for the Muu Muus. They're here at last.

Unless you are very fashion wise, or a former missionary to a heathen isle, you may ask, "So what's a Muu Muu?"

The logical answer is, "A Muu Muu is first cousin to almost anything ludicrous enough to elicit the phrase, 'Good heavens—name it and you can have it!'"

Actually a Muu Muu is a shapeless, uninspired garment designed decades ago by missionaries to Hawaii, to cover the nakedness of the heathen they were endeavoring to convert. To bring things more up to date, they are a very natural garment for women, added to the sack and chemise, to tumble into for casual and leisure moments. And if you wonder whether or not they'll sell, let me reassure you. They WILL sell... they ARE selling... and while I do not personally know any, there are some women who will buy them to WEAR and not just to give their dearest enemy.

The first I heard of the Muu Muu was some weeks before Christmas when one of the announcers at WVPO asked if we stocked them. He wanted to give one to his wife. (Now that I've seen them, I can't for the life of me understand why! But he did... and after I told him Cora Albertson had them on order, he hounded me regularly to find out when they were expected.)

Later, on his Tonight show, Jack Paar showed a Muu Muu which retailed at John Wanamaker for 7.95. Apparently they were in demand, for our lingerie department waited and waited for its shipment... presumably because orders were stacked ceiling-high ahead of ours.

The Muu Muu once again sprang into my consciousness through a line in Louis Sobol's syndicated column. According to him, the dress that won the most favorable comment for Elizabeth Taylor from the Russians was a Muu Muu. (After studying a few pictures of Russia's best dressed ladies, and seeing a Muu Muu head on, that figures.)

The other morning I stopped at our side window to see why two women were giggling so merrily. They were pointing at a shapeless, bag-like gown of vividly striped cotton. The deeply rounded neck was banded in solid yellow; the puffed sleeves also had solid yellow bands. The whole thing packed about as much glamour as an empty sardine can atop an overflowing garbage can on a sunburned August afternoon.

But the women are buying them. They can't all be mailing them to their rivals... so we presume some Muu Muus are also being worn. To bed (which is good)... around campus (which isn't)... and around the house in place of an attractive dress. (Any day now the Muu Muu will probably be added to the long list of why men leave home.)

I agree with Jack Paar when he said, "These may have done a lot for the heathen—but they didn't do much to encourage the tourist trade." Those we stock are by Schrank... which means they are excellent quality. They sell for only 5.95... are well made... and of lovely material. But I should like to re-name them. If you ask me, the guy who made THEM made a BUU-BUU!

THIS IS SOMETHING we've always wanted to do—write a column about girls. Not the type that just pin-points a girl's ability on the golf links; swimming pool; archery range; riding paddock; or on the cinder path. But one that takes in all of a girl's "qualities."

We would gladly put together a message, extolling the feats in these certain categories of sports, but we would rather gander at the feminine pulchritude and weigh all their assets along with their athletic abilities.

Mrs. Robert Miller, wife of the Main St. food merchant, gave us an "in" to our first girlie topic when she remarked, "Our Miss Pocono Mountain Pageant doesn't necessarily have to have entrants who are just pianists, songstresses, or any other vocation besides 'good looks'."

That was our cue. We noted, "There are some beauties hovering around the fairways, pools that, no doubt, could make more than an impression on the judge's mind."

(Editor's Note: For the life of us we never looked for beauty anywhere, but at the lake, old swimming hole and ocean. Once in awhile we've taken notice of a short-suited lass dragging her way across 18 holes. Even from our second hole peering site to the 16th where the object stood, "things looked mighty good.") Let's not stray from the subject, Clark. After all Mrs. Miller came forward with an idea that needed space.

Mrs. Miller thought that possibly sportsmen clubs, archery clubs or any club may want to sponsor some girl in the newest addition of the Miss Pocono Mountain Pageant.

As we said singers, piano players, etc., have been parading around, seeking the first prize since the inauguration of the event. Why not sports participants?

All an entrant—endowed with sports ability—has to do is give a three-minute demonstration on her chosen field or a three-minute talk on the career she wishes to pursue.

Naturally there are other nuxts such as good character, poise, personality, intelligence, charm and (this we like) beauty of face and figure.

We're for Mrs. Miller's newest gimmick to increase the number of participants in the pageant. The idea would provide good publicity for the sponsoring sports group.

If some group would like further information contact Mrs. Miller.

However, if the organization has trouble weeding out contestants, bypass Mrs. Miller, and call Sam Spade Clark. We promise to come a-running, that is if Mrs. Clark doesn't latch the door on us.

BOWLING TIDBITS—Oscar (Okay) Stuckey maintained his lead in the average chase in the Industrial League. Stuckey owns a 185.7 mark, two points better than second place, Jim Harmon Sr., who has a 183.10. Other top averages are Stan Konawalk, 179; Bob Smith, 176; Frank Bell, 174; Pete Murphy, 172; Ken Barnes and Bob Fellencher, 171 each; and Pete Grover and Bill Stone, 170 apiece.

Frank Rice showed in a match that you can't always keep a kegler at the 134 norm. Rice, rolling for Varkony's, hit the maples for 513 or a 170-plus average.

High matches in the circuit last week were posted by Murphy, 579; Fellencher, 556; Harry Andress, 551; and Barnes, 549 and Lefty Goucher, 541.

John Javitt ran amuck in the Monroe Classic League the other night. However, it was only for one game. John, one of the veteran keggers locally, bowled a 277 middle game in league action. But in the other two games of the three-set, Johnny was unable to put together a pair that equalled by his eye-opening 277.

U. S. Won't Win Back Cup,
Despite His Aid-Hood

By WILL GRIMSLEY

PRINCETON, N. J. — Australia's Lew Hoed is not peeved that he has been asked to help train American Davis Cup prospects. He says the United States can't win back the cup anyhow. He says the United States can't win back the cup anyhow.

blond Australian blaster said Thursday, referring to the addition of amateur Barry MacKay to the Jack Kramer professional touring troupe.

"MacKay is a good boy and showing a lot of improvement but there is no immediate danger of beating Mal Anderson and Ashley Cooper."

Contribution

"Besides I think anything I can do or anybody can do to help a man play a better game is making a contribution to tennis. The Davis Cup would be more interesting if the Americans, or any other country, were stronger."

MacKay, 22-year-old Dayton, Ohio, star who won a match in the challenge round at Melbourne last year, has joined the Pancho Gonzalez-Hood tour for training purposes.

Hood said MacKay appeared to be hitting the ball better than when he was in Australia but still had considerable ground to make up before he would be a serious threat for recapturing the Davis Cup.

The world's record for the 100-yard freestyle is 56.3 set by Dawn Fraser of Australia. World records cannot be set in this meet because the pool is only 25 yards. World records can be set in pools of 35 yards.

Bettenhausen Out For Record

LANKHORNE, Pa. — Tony Bettenhausen, former National champion and currently holder of the world's record—176.826 mph. average at Monza, Italy, in June of '57—will attempt to wheel a midjet auto at better than world record speed when the 100-mile National championship for the small cars is presented at the Langhorne Speedway, April 27.

The local course was the first to see a midjet driver better 100 mph. in a qualifying test, that was in 1947 when co-promoters Irv Fried and Al Gerber featured their last championship event for the small autos. Bettenhausen feels confident that he can tool his K & K roadster to a new standard for the century.

Bobby Boyd, lankung 24-year-old Chicago middleweight boxer, has a twin sister.

Cards Edge Chisox

DENVER, Colo. — A wild pitch by the bases loaded in the ninth scored the decisive run Thursday as the St. Louis Cardinals edged the Chicago White Sox, 8-7.

The Cardinals banged three Sox pitchers for 15 hits, but had to overcome a five-run Sox spree in the fourth.

St. Louis scored two runs each in the eighth and ninth, the pair in the final frame coming off the third Chicago pitcher, Bill DuFour. DuFour walked across one run with the bases loaded and then wild-pitched Ed Ennis home from third.

Campy's Progress Slow, But His Morale Is High

GLEN COVE, N. Y. — His progress is agonizingly slow but his morale is high.

That is the condition Thursday of Roy Campanella nearly 2½ months after his close brush with death in an auto accident not far from his Glen Cove home.

Still paralyzed from the lower abdomen down, the chunky, 36-year-old Dodger catcher great lies strapped to a turning rack in his bed. The tracheotomy tube still is in his throat to help his respiration.

Remains Same

A bulletin issued Thursday by Community Hospital — the first since March 7—said Roy's general condition has remained the same since the last bulletin. Although he cannot move his fingers he still has slight movement in his wrists and can extend his arms. Bending at the elbow is good as most shoulder movements.

"His sense of feeling is at the lower abdomen level. His medical condition is satisfactory."

The bulletin said Campy had a urinary infection during the month which responded very promptly to treatment.

Airs Ball Games

"His morale remains excellent and he listens to every baseball game that is being broadcast," the bulletin concluded.

"Roy's making progress," said Campanella's wife, Ruth. "He shows a little improvement almost each day. He still can't do anything for himself but he is able to move his arms a little and he has begun to have feeling in the lower part of his body."

"His spirit is wonderful," said Mrs. Campanella. "He keeps us all hopeful."

Mound Corps Is Improving

EASTON, Pa. — Lafayette's pitching staff, of doubtful status in pre-season calculations, appears to be developing to the satisfaction of Maroon Coach Charley Gelbert.

With Ray Smith, southpaw from Elizabeth, N. J., the only moundman left from last year's staff, Gelbert has been forced to depend on newcomers on the squad for mound duty.

After a shaky start, some of the newcomers show considerable promise.

Gelbert is well pleased with the showing made on the recent southern trip by Gene Parsons, a righthander from Hellertown. Parsons pitched well in several games.

Catcher-Pitcher

The Lafayette coach also plans to use Ted Sloan, Philadelphia receiver, in spots on the mound. Although Sloan has been the Maroon's regular catcher for three seasons, he did some pitching in high school and was used by Gelbert in a relief role against the Quantic Marines. He helped Lafayette win the game by a 2-1 score by shutting off a rally in the eighth and blanking the Marines in the ninth.

Should the pitching hold up, Lafayette is certain to again be a contender for the District 2, NCAA, championship. The Maroon appears to be well balanced in the infield and outfield, with a lot of hitting power, and a capable catching staff.

The Maroon has four games next week, with Moravian here Monday, LaSalle at Philadelphia Wednesday, Bucknell at Lewisburg, Friday, and Colgate here Saturday.

Daily Record Survey

Attendance Increasing In College

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles on Monroe County education. Each will be based on the results of the county-wide survey conducted by the author for The Daily Record.

By Leonard Randolph

WHAT happens to the student after high school graduation? More and more graduates are going on to college. In Monroe County the percentage has risen, gradually but impressively, during each recent year.

Because of this, many local teachers are inclined to favor the idea of a community "junior" college. In their answers to the education survey, they point out these arguments in favor of such a college:

—We can provide better opportunities for post-high school education through establishing junior colleges supported from public funds. This would make higher education available to students who are unable to pay.

—We should institute a program of two-year junior colleges whereby more technical knowledge can be acquired. We should also add more teachers to existing local schools and set up post-graduate courses of advanced study.

—We should provide for at least one junior college for each county in Pennsylvania.

—A junior college is one solution, but it is expensive in a small area. . . . The local Teachers College is being used, in a sense, for Junior College work—that is, they will transfer credits. We should encourage students to take advantage of local courses that are being offered, such as the Penn State extension courses.

Many of those answering in the survey feel that college (East Stroudsburg Teachers) facilities could and should be used more. It is a strong feeling among some teachers and administrators that ESSTC classrooms and faculty members should be used to provide night courses for advanced students or for adults.

Some teachers specifically mention the low cost of education at the local college. In their opinion the Teachers College provides a higher education for many students who would never, otherwise, be able to afford it. This is partly due to its location within the community—allowing some students to attend classes and live at home—and partly to the normal reduced costs of institutions for teacher instruction in the State as a whole.

While the feeling that students who wish to continue their education should be helped in their efforts is very strong among local educators, there are a small, but equally strong-minded, few who have some reservations about the idea.

The major stream of reserve here appears to be among those who feel that educational scholarships, like TV quiz shows, may seem too often to take on the aspects of a "giveaway" or a "gravy train."

One teacher says: The idea of getting "something for nothing" is just as bad in education as it is anywhere else. If the student understands that he has to work and work hard to maintain a scholastic level when he's getting a free education, the scholarships are all right.

While others talk of the need for scholarship programs financed by private industry or the local community or, if necessary, State or Federal funds, there are several whose thinking on the subject remains individualistic. One classroom teacher says:

—I am a 'bug' on the idea that, somehow, somewhere, everyone should earn his education. Therefore, if any scholarship program is effected, earning it or repaying it should be one requirement.

There are many others who agree with this feeling. And the idea of "loan funds" from which students could borrow the money to go to college—at little or no interest—is just as popular as the idea of community or junior colleges.

Expenditures for meeting requirements of an employer are deductible only to the extent that they are for minimum education required by the taxpayer's employer, or by applicable law or regulations, as a condition to the retention of the taxpayer's salary, status or employment.

Requirements

A taxpayer is considered to have made expenditures for education to meet the express requirements of his employer only if the requirement is imposed primarily for a bona fide business purpose of the taxpayer's employer and not primarily for the taxpayer's benefit.

Expenditures are not deductible if they are for education undertaken primarily for the purpose of obtaining a new position or substantial advancement in position, or primarily for the purpose of fulfilling the general expenses for which such accommodations are needed are deductible.

Generally, a taxpayer's expenditures for travel, including that while on sabbatical leave as a form of education shall be considered primarily personal in nature and therefore not deductible, the IRS says.

Signal Depot, Businessmen Plan For 'Tobyhanna Days'

A GENERAL discussion meeting was held yesterday to develop preliminary plans for a spectacular air demonstration to be held in connection with the "Tobyhanna Days" parade here Saturday, May 10.

Two representatives of the Tobyhanna Signal Depot met with a delegation from the Stroudsburg Businessmen's Assn. at Wyckoff's Tearoom to correlate the planning.

Jesse Pierson, chairman of the Tobyhanna Days Committee of the merchants' group, said a number of possibilities for the air show were discussed and that details will be announced as the program takes a more definite shape.

Among the possible highlights of the show is the firing of a model missile on Main St. The missile, a miniature of one of the large ones developed by the armed forces, would be shot several thousand feet into the air where it would release a number of parachutes containing coupons for prizes offered by the merchants.

Demonstration

The air demonstration, Pierson said, will include light aircraft and helicopter maneuvers, release of helium balloons and other spectacular events.

All of the military equipment will be obtained from the armed services by the Tobyhanna Signal Depot, which is going all out to make this year's celebration of Tobyhanna Days bigger and more eventful than in any previous years, the chairman said.

Further meetings will be held to develop definite plans for the program.

Representing the depot at yesterday's meeting were Col. Harold Boston, Air Force Reserve, and Clyde Burke, public relations officer.

Attending from Stroudsburg were Burgess Edward Doran, J. Horace Strunk, Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce executive secretary and three members of the merchant's committee. Chairmen Pierson, John Wilson and Jack Kerlin.
